The Eastern Spadefoot Toad has been classified as endangered by the Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission. Two breeding populations of eastern spadefoot toads are currently reported in the Commonwealth. The one location is found in Northumberland County on the Belford Addition in the Milton Industrial Park and is owned by the Milton Area Industrial Development Association (MAIDA).

Since the endangered species classification, The Milton Industrial Development Association has been unable to further develop the vacant 100 acres of land. To take a potentially negative situation and turn it into a positive, the Chamber is organizing an annual Eastern Spadefoot Toad 5k Run or Walk and a Kids Hop.
