How to Make 2025

Your Best Chamber Year Yet, pg. 14

New board directors,

pg. 3

The Inside Scoop

As the new year begins afresh, I feel especially thankful for the past year of challenges, changes, and the opportunity to meet them head on! Whether completely successful or not, what's most important is giving it your best effort. I know I did, how about you? Some of the 2024 Seminar & Training events, B&E Golf Tournament, and Annual Meeting will remain high points in my memory, and will be hard to top in 2025—but you can be sure your Central PA Chamber team are going to try! So, with another year of experience gained and wisdom learned, we venture into 2025 with the resolution to make another year even better than the past.

I look forward to working with the new directors of the board, and the entire board and committees of the Central PA Chamber to position ourselves to best serve our members. One comment, we constantly hear from the public is we are the Chamber that “actually does something.” That’s great and well appreciated! It takes a concerted effort to achieve this, and I strongly encourage you to help us, help you by perusing the objectives outlined in the 2025 Member Benefits & Opportunities as well as the Member Success guides.

I want to also encourage you to consider advertising opportunities available to you through our website, social media, and publications just like this issue of IYB! Because the Chamber receives thousands of individual views and readers (see By the Numbers on the back cover), why not advertise with us? There are opportunities available for every budget so you can make your business, organization, product, or service seen by a broad, potential clientele. Spaces are limited for 2025, so make sure to reach out to me as soon as possible—make it a new year’s resolution!

2024 Board of Directors Election Results

MILTON – The Central PA Chamber of Commerce welcomes several new and returning members to its Board of Directors starting in January 2025.

Elected to three-year terms following the membership-wide election in November are: Alison Hall, Realtor at RE/MAX Bridges, Lewisburg; Peter Swift, Executive Director of Camp Susque, Inc., Trout Run; and Ron Mackley, a retired, community member of the Chamber.

In addition, incumbent Genie Bausinger, Executive Director of the Milton Regional Sewer Authority, Milton, was re-elected to serve a second three-year term. Tina Welch, Founder & Principal Consultant for Welch Performance Consulting, Bloomsburg, was appointed to the board to fulfill the remainder of a vacancy and was elected to complete her first, full term.

With new board members means others are stepping down. They include: Will Greiner, Lean Process Excellence Leader at Great Dane, Danville; and Nate Lawrence, President of United Plate Glass, Sunbury.

Also ending his term with the Central PA Chamber Board of Directors is Robert Jones, a board member of the Milton Historical Society, who served as chairman for the past year as well as several previous officer positions.

“I am delighted to be a returning member of the Board of Directors! Having been a member of the Central PA Chamber of Commerce for 17 years, I know firsthand how valuable the Chamber is to its members and how essential those connections are to fostering growth and success,” said Hall, a previous board director and 2023 Impact Award winner.

Swift stated, “Organizations like the Central PA Chamber of Commerce are working to provide collaboration and training opportunities to strengthen our small businesses so that they can grow, thrive, and provide healthy and stable employment opportunities in our own backyards. I want to be a part of that work, and look forward to fostering greater collaboration and working relationships between businesses in our community.”

The Central PA Chamber thanks all of this year’s board candidates, everyone who made nominations and the board’s nominating committee. The committee included: Chairman Jones; Director of the Board, Sheri Marshall, Financial Advisor for Edward Jones, Selinsgrove; former Directors Hall, Mackley, and Lennea Brown, Community Member from West Milton; and Ellen Ruby, Director of the Lewisburg Downtown Partnership.

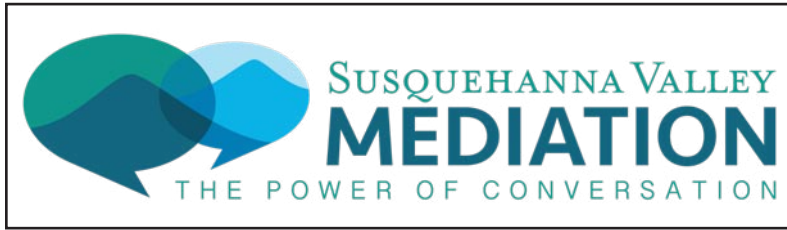

A total of 470 votes were tallied from ballots submitted by a Central PA Chamber member organization’s “primary contact” or “voting member”.

The 2025 board officers, who make up the Executive Committee, will be elected by their peers during the February 2025 board meeting.

January 2025

SELINSGROVE - Susquehanna Valley Mediation (SVM) is pleased to announce that the educational program BALM: Be A Loving Mirror will be returning in the winter. Family members in Snyder and Union counties who are experiencing a loved one with Substance Use Disorder are invited to join the 8-week program with BALM coach Stacey Karchner from 5:45 to 8 p.m. every Tuesday, beginning January 14, via Zoom.

BALM: Be A Loving Mirror Family Recovery Program teaches a unique method, based on love and connection that helps families shift away from anxious reactivity to calm responsiveness. Each component of the program teaches families communication skills and provides them with the tools they need to be their loved one's best chance at recovery.

"BALM evolved around the fact that those with Substance Use Disorder are human beings and deserving of love just as any other person is," said Karchner. "Research shows when the family gets well, the loved one has a much better chance of getting and staying well. The brains of those with addiction are hijacked by a drug (believing it is needed to survive) and in turn the family's brains are hijacked believing they can control or fix, and they become obsessed with the outcome. The family needs just as much, if not more, recovery as the loved one."

The course will consist of 12 lessons, including topics like The Crucial Role of the Family, Boundaries and Leverage, How to Help Motivate Change, Enabling vs. Helping, Responding vs Reacting, Mindfulness, and more.

Susquehanna Valley Mediation invites all families and loved ones of those with SUD to join this meaningful program. All fees for the BALM facilitator are paid for by Union County Probation. For more information about BALM, please contact Stacey Karchner at skarchner9@gmail.com or call (814)360-7590.

personalized and expert approach.

What makes your business unique?

In addition to our massage and skincare treatments, we offer specialized services tailored to individuals managing pain, stress, or skin concerns like sun damage and aging. We also incorporate techniques from somatic mindfulness and body awareness, such as Trager Somatic Mindfulness, that enhance both the relaxation and efficacy of our sessions.

Why are you a member of the Central PA Chamber of Commerce?

Being a Chamber member allows us to deepen our connections within the community and collaborate with other local businesses. We value the opportunities it provides for building lasting partnerships and expanding our network.

What benefit/opportunity from your Chamber membership do you utilize or want to utilize?

We aim to participate more actively in Chamber events and networking opportunities to build collaborative relationships with other local businesses, especially those in allied health and wellness, creating a stronger support system for the community.

Time with Tea Jay

Let's Start the New Year RIGHT!

Recently during a meeting with a local leader, it was realized that they thought the Central PA Chamber was supported (funded) by grants and government.

That is a common misconception as most non-profit organizations we are familiar with tend to be of a 501(c)(3) status which means they are funded by grants and government. The Central PA Chamber of Commerce is a non-profit organization with a 501(c)(6) status.

Now what does that mean exactly. Simply put, 501(c)(3)s aim to solve societal problems, while 501(c)(6)s aim to advance industries.

As a 501(c)(6), the Central PA Chamber doesn't have the wide variety of grants available and government funding to them that 501(c)(3) organizations do.

A 501(c)(6) non-profit primarily generates income through membership dues paid by its members, essentially acting as a trade association where businesses join to benefit from collective activities like networking, marketing, trainings & seminars, events, facility usage, referrals, legislative connections and more, with the primary source of revenue coming from these membership fees.

So, consider that the membership dues for 12 months range from $65 to $1060. The Central PA Chamber has been dubbed "the active chamber" and "the chamber that gets stuff done" by not only its members but the public at large.

To be active and get stuff done undoubtedly costs money and time and of course time is money right.

This explains why it is so important for not only sponsorships and event revenue, but more importantly donations and President's Club memberships.

Most Americans couldn't tell you what a 501(c)(6) is, but those same people have likely interacted with one. The activities of your local Chamber of Commerce, 501(c)(6) organizations are valuable non-profits in our community, impacting lives in a positive way.

So, if you've been impacted in a positive way by the Central PA Chamber of Commerce and wish to see the work continue here are some ways you can ensure their sustainability:

- Submit a WHY US video - <https://centralpachamber.com/why-us/>
- Join the President's Club - <https://centralpachamber.com/membership/presidents-club/>
- Advertise in the Member Benefits & Opportunities Guide - <https://centralpachamber.com/wp-content/uploads/2024/12/2025-Membership-Benefits-Opportunities-Guide.pdf>

Did You Know?

Sponsorships:

- The Central PA Chamber of Commerce offers a wide range of events throughout the year, attended by hundred of business & community leaders.
- Sponsorship opportunities provide a platform for Chamber members to address and be seen by event participants.

The Danville Area Community Center Invites You to "Free Week"

DANVILLE - The Danville Area Community Center (DACC) is thrilled to announce, "Free Week," a special opportunity for the community to experience the many amenities and programs we have to offer—completely free of charge. From Sunday, January 5, through Saturday, January 11, guest fees will be waived, allowing everyone to explore the DACC and discover their new favorite activity.

Visitors will have full access to an array of offerings, including:

- ◆ Group Exercise Classes for all fitness levels.
- ◆ Swimming Pool access for lap swimming, recreational swimming, and Water Fitness Classes.
- ◆ Fitness Machines and free weights to meet your workout goals.
- ◆ Opportunities to shoot hoops in the gymnasium.
- ◆ Try out a Pickleball game.

This is the perfect chance for individuals and families to explore the DACC's welcoming environment and find a routine that supports their health and wellness goals.

"Free Week is our way of inviting the community to experience everything the DACC has to offer," said Heather Laubach, Chief Operating Officer, "Whether you're trying a Group Exercise Class for the first time, bringing the family for a swim, or simply exploring our facilities, there's something for everyone."

To ensure the best experience, we encourage all visitors to plan ahead. Please note that all standard rules and restrictions apply for both children and adults. Additionally, some facilities may be reserved for scheduled classes or group activities. Visitors are encouraged to check the DACC website at <http://www.danvilleacc.com> for updated schedules and availability.

The DACC staff looks forward to welcoming both new and returning members of the community during this exciting week. Don't miss this opportunity to explore, connect, and experience all that the Danville Area Community Center has to offer—for free!

Winter Skin Care:

Protecting Your Skin in Cold, Dry Weather

By Dr. Adel Haque

As the temperatures drop, our skin faces unique challenges brought on by cold, dry air outdoors and heated environments indoors. For individuals with conditions like eczema and psoriasis, winter can be particularly harsh. Understanding how to care for your skin during this season is essential to maintaining its health and comfort.

The Effects of Winter on Skin Health

Winter air is notoriously low in humidity, which depletes the skin of its natural moisture. Combined with harsh winds and the drying effects of indoor heating, this can lead to flaky, itchy, and irritated skin. Those with eczema or psoriasis are especially vulnerable, as their skin already has a compromised barrier function. This can result in increased flare-ups, inflammation, and discomfort.

Tips to Protect and Nourish Your Skin

1. Moisturize More Frequently

The cornerstone of winter skincare is hydration. Choose a thick, emollient cream or ointment that provides a protective barrier, sealing in moisture. For those with eczema or psoriasis, look for products free of fragrances and irritants, as these can exacerbate symptoms. Apply moisturizer immediately after bathing to trap moisture in the skin.

2. Use a Humidifier Indoors

Central heating can strip moisture from the air, leaving skin even drier. Using a humidifier in your bedroom or living space helps maintain humidity levels, preventing skin from becoming parched.

3. Bathe Smartly

While a hot shower can feel comforting on a cold day, prolonged exposure to hot water can worsen dryness. Opt for lukewarm water and limit bath time to 10-15 minutes. Use a gentle, fragrance-free cleanser, and pat your skin dry with a towel rather than rubbing.

4. Dress in Layers

Wool and synthetic fabrics can irritate sensitive skin. When layering for warmth, choose soft, breathable fabrics like cotton for the layer closest to your skin.

5. Stay Hydrated and Eat Skin-Friendly Foods

Hydration isn't just about what you put on your skin; it's also about what you put in your body. Drink plenty of water and incorporate foods rich in omega-3 fatty acids, like salmon and walnuts, to support your skin's natural barrier.

6. Don't Forget Sun Protection

The sun's UV rays are just as harmful in winter as in summer, especially when reflected off snow. Use a broad-spectrum sunscreen with at least SPF 30 on exposed skin.

Winter doesn't have to mean discomfort for your skin. With a proactive approach to skincare, you can reduce the impact of cold weather and keep your skin healthy and resilient throughout the season.

Dermatology Partners offers immediate appointments to help you address your skin concerns. Call us at 888-818-DERM to schedule today!

Innovative Manufacturers Center (IMC)

CENTRAL, PA - The Innovative Manufacturers Center (IMC), a public-private partnership dedicated to supporting small- and medium-sized manufacturers (SMMs) in Central Pennsylvania, has been awarded two grants aimed at advancing technology adoption and green energy manufacturing in the region.

IMC will serve as a subrecipient of the U.S. Department of Energy's (DOE) SMART-PA program and the Appalachian Regional Commission's (ARC) Appalachian Regional Initiative for Stronger Economies (ARISE) fund. These programs will provide critical resources to help SMMs in the 12-county Central PA region enhance productivity, increase competitiveness, and support the transition to clean energy.

The SMART-PA program supports SMMs in adopting SMART manufacturing technologies to improve efficiency, reduce costs, and attract talent. Through this initiative, Central PA manufacturers will have access to:

- Technology Assessments: Identify opportunities for improved productivity.
- Technical Assistance: Support for implementing advanced manufacturing solutions.
- Mini-Grants: Financial assistance for technology adoption.
- Educational Events & Networking: Workshops, training sessions, and peer connections.

These resources will help manufacturers address critical challenges such as workforce shortages, delays caused by manual processes, high scrap rates, and excessive machine downtime.

Driving Green Energy Manufacturing with ARC's ARISE Fund
 IMC's participation in ARC's ARISE fund will focus on helping manufacturers expand into the green technology and clean energy sectors. This initiative will provide:

- Training & Technical Assistance: Guidance for workforce development and technological adoption.
- Supply Chain Mapping: Insights into green energy supply chain opportunities.
- Factory Upgrades: Support for transitioning facilities to manufacture renewable energy components, hydrogen power systems, smart grid technology, electric vehicles, and other green innovations.

New Year, New Opportunities

Happy New Year, IYB readers! It is 2025, a new year with new possibilities and opportunities for your business or organization. This is also another year for you to utilize your many Chamber benefits. Each month I will again highlight different opportunities that you can take advantage of.

Let's start January out by talking about advertising, specifically Website Advertising.

There are a few ways to advertise on the Chamber website. First way is to be on the homepage of the site. This is on our banner, which is the first thing people see when they visit the site. You can be that advertiser for a whole month for only $150. There is only 1 space available each month, so don't wait too long to confirm your space.

Another way to get yourself on the website is to have an ad on our Events Page on the website. This is where everyone goes to register for all the events they attend with the Chamber. You can place an ad on this tab of the website for only $50 and have it be seen for a whole month. There are 2 opportunities per month for this advertisement.

If you are not in a position to spend money on advertising for 2025, another way to make sure people gain the correct information about your business or organization is to make sure your Directory Listing is up to date. This is key information for anyone looking for a particular service you may offer. Key items to check on your listing are your contact information, website, social media links, and description of your business. Reminder to our members, you can be listed in as many categories that fit your business description. So, if you see a category, you think you should belong in contact the Chamber staff to update this or any information.

A new year means a new chance to get your business out in front of even more people, which can translate to more customers! If you have any questions or would like to take advantage of any of the above opportunities, be sure to reach out to myself or Ryan Workman, our communications Director.

I look forward to working with each Chamber member this year!
