The Inside Scoop

Welcome to your September Issue of IYB!

Once in a while, it's nice to just get away for the day, and the summer is the perfect time to do so!

Last month, the Chamber staff were lucky enough to spend part of our day on a special invitation to the Pennsylvania Treasury. Treasurer Garrity, herself, was kind enough to show us her office and the vault. As with everything else about Pennsylvania's Capitol, the vault is one of the largest and most intricate of any such structure in the United States.

It was a nice time for my colleagues and I to appreciate a part of our Commonwealth's history and government as well as enjoy each other's company outside the office. This fall, you are all invited to do the same...at our 2025 Annual Meeting!

If you are not one of the more than 200 individuals who have registered your seat for the event, please head to: www.centralpachamber.com/events and do it, RIGHT NOW! There are less than 20 seats left!

Enjoy some time away from the office with community and business leaders, indulge in the delicious Feast of Flavor buffet, be inspired by our keynote speaker, and find out who wins an Impact Award. Who knows? Maybe it's YOU! I look forward to seeing you there!

Happy reading,

Ryan Workman, Editor
Communications Director

Chamber Tours Pennsylvania Treasury

HARRISBURG — Central PA Chamber members have come to expect exceptional behind-the-scenes tours of member businesses and organizations, called Inside Jobs Tours (IJT's) on a monthly basis. Some members have unique workspaces that require special clothing, physical capabilities, or even background clearances. Last month, the Central PA Chamber staff were treated to tour of the Pennsylvania Treasury and vault in Harrisburg, which only permitted very limited capacity.

Jessica, Ryan, and Tea Jay were given a personal tour of the Commonwealth's unique Treasury offices and vault by none other than Pennsylvania Treasurer, Stacy Garrity, herself!

Have a look at some of treasures seen on the tour:

How long has your organization existed?

We are a second-generation, family-owned commercial real estate company with over 40 years of experience. Specializing in acquiring, renovating, and repurposing industrial properties, we manage a portfolio totaling 4.5 million square feet across New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. Our mission is to breathe new life into neglected industrial sites, transforming them into thriving hubs for small and mid-sized businesses.

What makes your business unique in your industry?

We've carved out a unique niche in the industry by acquiring and revitalizing large, neglected industrial properties—like 417 N Arch Street—bringing them back to life through strategic renovations. Rather than letting these massive sites sit unused, we restore their functionality and aesthetic appeal before subdividing them into smaller, more practical spaces.

Why are you a member of the Central PA Chamber of Commerce?

We are proud members of the Central PA Chamber of Commerce because we share a common mission—supporting small businesses and strengthening the local economy. By acquiring, renovating, and revitalizing large industrial properties, we create affordable, high-quality spaces for small and mid-sized businesses to grow and succeed.

What benefit/opportunity from your Chamber membership do you utilize or want to utilize?

We greatly value the connections and resources the Central PA Chamber of Commerce provides, and we're especially eager to take advantage of more in-person events. Networking with fellow business owners, learning from industry leaders, and building relationships within the local community are all opportunities we want to maximize.

"Thar' means stillness, neutrality and interdimensional wisdom. Kai carries the vibration of hands-on-healing and multidimensional communication through the human body. Energy Healing can include energy modalities like Reiki, reflexology, Healing Touch, chakra balancing, and others. They are forms of healing therapy applied through non-invasive, non-manipulative technique in which a practitioner lightly lays hands just above or on the clothed body in a slow progression of hand positions. Energy healing modalities like Reiki and Healing Touch are shown to be more effective than placebo for pain relief, relaxation and anxiety management. Anyone can receive energy healing, and thus, it has become widely accepted as a complementary therapy in hospitals, cancer-support centers, and for palliative care. People often report an increased sense of peace and balance after a session."

Time with Tea Jay

The Next Three Years

The next three-year strategic plan for the Central PA Chamber has been a primary focus of my attention over the past several months while entering various stages of surveying stakeholders, data collection, landscape analysis, retreat with board of directors, review of objectives and key results and more. It has been a wonderful learning experience and enlightening process so far. I am pleased to say that the rough draft has been prepared provided to the board for review and set to discuss in September 2025.

The annual meeting and awards ceremony preparation is well underway and happy to say that we are on target to be SOLD OUT again and most likely by the time you have received this publication. There is still time to secure sponsorships and get your business recognized as a contributor to the most anticipated event of the year.

The most difficult part of this time of year is the selection of the annual impact award winners. The team has already begun the process of creating independent lists of perspective candidates. There are so many amazing individuals, non-profit organizations and businesses within the over six hundred and fifty members of the Central PA Chamber of Commerce.

Over the years there have been Impact Award winners who have not only served the region, but also the Central PA Chamber. Those individuals who just have such passion with servant leadership in their DNA.

If you are someone who has passion for the mission and vision of the Central PA Chamber with servant leadership in your DNA consider submitting your name to the nominating committee by way of emailing NOMINATING COMMITTEE at jbeaver@centralpachamber.com by September 15, 2025. If you want to learn more about what is involved with serving the Central PA Chamber as a director feel free to reach out to myself or any of the current board directors and request a copy of the board director's responsibilities and expectations along with the board member election policy.

If you considering submitting your name to be considered by the nominating committee and want to brush up on your board serving skills connect with Ryan (rworkman@centralpachamber.com) quickly as there is an October Raising the Board course scheduled with a few seats remaining this year. This is an exciting time for the Central PA Chamber YOUR Chamber. Celebrating the 120th anniversary while now embarking on the strategic plan with a membership of over 660 and a retention rate well above industry standard is simply magnificent.

I look forward to seeing you soon and God Bless!

HRG Names Four Senior Quality Leads to Oversee Quality Assurance and Train Staff on Evolving Techniques

HARRISBURG - Herbert, Rowland & Grubic, Inc. (HRG) has named four senior quality leads to oversee key service areas for the firm: hydraulics and hydrology, water and wastewater collection and conveyance systems, technical financial services, and structural engineering. These senior quality leads will provide technical expertise to guide project development and conduct quality control reviews of project deliverables. They will also mentor technical team members and train staff on evolving techniques, technology, and trends to ensure HRG provides the best service to their clients.

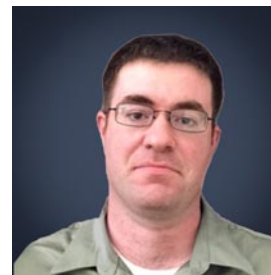

Erin Threet, the firm's vice president of services, says the firm is growing, expanding its service offerings and geographic footprint. At the same time, infrastructure is rapidly changing: Projects are becoming more complex, and new technologies emerge regularly. "A high level of technical expertise is required to stay at the forefront of these changes and deliver the highest quality service to our clients," Threet says. "The individuals we have chosen to serve as senior quality leads are recognized experts in their field who have spoken and published for leading industry organizations. They passionately study regulatory changes and advanced strategies because of an innate desire to deliver the best results, and they will do an excellent job mentoring our staff to keep HRG at the leading edge of quality and innovation."

Matt Vanaskie will serve as senior quality lead for hydraulics and hydrology. Vanaskie has degrees in both civil and environmental engineering from Bucknell and Villanova Universities. He has more than 20 years of experience in flood control, hydraulic modeling, and stormwater management and has presented on these topics before the Pennsylvania Water Environment Association, the Water Environment Federation Stormwater Symposium, Pennsylvania Floodplain Managers Conference, and the Villanova University Stormwater Symposium.

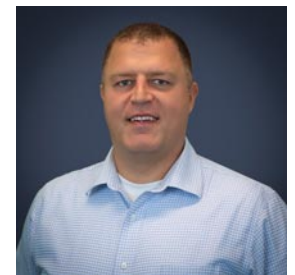

Matt Cichy will serve as the senior quality lead for water and wastewater collection and conveyance systems. He is an expert on sanitary sewer inflow and infiltration as well as sewer system rehabilitation and pump station design. He has served as the lead technical engineer on many of HRG's most complex collection and conveyance system projects and has presented on these topics before the Pennsylvania Water Environment Association.

Ryan Killen will serve as the senior quality lead for technical financial services. Killen's experience encompasses a broad array of analytical and quantitative support to municipalities and municipal authorities, helping them with budgeting, authority implementation, capital charge studies, rate studies, regional stormwater programming, and valuation studies. He provides comprehensive assistance throughout transactions, including bond structuring, credit rating analysis, and disclosure documentation.

Matt Arena will serve as the senior quality lead for structural engineering in our transportation group. Arena's expertise ranges from single-span to complex multi-span bridges for local and state governments. He is known for his outstanding technical proficiency, meticulous attention to detail, and strong commitment to process efficiency.

Foundation to Host Grant Impact Celebration

BERWICK - The Community Giving Foundation is pleased to announce its upcoming Grant Impact Celebration on Friday, September 12th, from 8:30–10:30 AM at the Pine Barn Inn, Danville. This annual gathering will bring together donors, nonprofit partners, board members, and community leaders to celebrate the meaningful impact of charitable giving across the Foundation’s 5 ½ county service region.

The morning will begin with networking and breakfast, followed by a program highlighting the stories and successes of Foundation-funded initiatives. The event is an opportunity to showcase the ways local philanthropy is meeting community needs in significant and lasting ways. Local media attendance is welcomed. For more information, please contact Danny Hess, Foundation Marketing Assistant, at dhess@csgiving.org.

The Grant Impact Celebration will honor the generosity of donors and the dedication of nonprofit partners. The event serves as a time to reflect on the difference being made across the region and to recognize the collective impact that philanthropy is creating in local communities.

The Community Giving Foundation is a 501(c)(3) organization that develops, manages, and distributes funds for charitable purposes in communities across the Central Susquehanna region. Serving as a philanthropic hub for charitable giving, the Foundation currently manages over 375 funds and awards over $3 million annually to benefit local nonprofit initiatives and educational opportunities for students. Dermatology Partners Management Team Expands with Promotion of Andrew Vail, Appointment of Joseph Stultz

Privately Held Practice Continues Strategic Growth

LEWISBURG - Dermatology Partners, the region’s premier privately owned and physician-led dermatology practice, has promoted Andrew Vail to Senior Director of Clinical Development, while Joseph (Joe) Stultz has joined the organization as Director of Training.

These leadership moves reinforce the organization’s commitment to patient-centered care and strategic, organic growth, without private equity funding.

Andrew Vail, who has served as the Director of Training at Dermatology Partners since 2022, has played a key role in implementing and overseeing medical assistant training programs, maintaining clinical compliance standards, and developing workflow improvements resulting in efficient practice operations. In his new position as Senior Director of Clinical Development, he will further optimize the use of technology-based tools and systems, coach providers on efficiency and data privacy, and help guide integration as the company continues to grow.

With more than 15 years of experience in the field of dermatology, Vail began his career as a medical and surgical assistant, allowing him to fully understand both sides of the business. He later went on to manage multi-site operations for a regional dermatology group, overseeing compliance, workflow, and provider relations before joining Dermatology Partners.

Joseph Stultz joins the team with two decades of experience as a leader in training, operations, and organizational development. Previously with Urban Outfitters and Gopuff, he has a proven history of creating transformative learning experiences, which enable organizational growth. With a commitment to continuous improvement, he plans to build on Dermatology Partners’ solid foundation to create innovative training programs that benefit both employees and patients.

“In an environment where many dermatology groups and practices are selling to private equity firms, we’re proud to continue expanding by investing in people,” said Andrew Kay, Vice President of Growth and Business Development at Dermatology Partners. “We’ve seen firsthand how strong leadership at the regional level helps us stay true to our mission of providing accessible, high-quality dermatologic care across our communities.”

Continues Kay, “Both Andrew and Joe exemplify the kind of leadership we need to support our growth while maintaining our clinical integrity. As we continue expanding into new markets, leadership that understands the importance of training, patient security, and physician support will be essential.”

Dermatology Partners has nearly 40 clinics in Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Maryland. The practice has continued its rapid expansion, most recently with the addition of new offices and providers in Chambersburg and Doylestown, PA. Assistant, at dhess@csgiving.org.

Seeking Project Partners for: Responsible Management

Responsible Management is a course that explores ethics and sustainability challenges associated with managing successful businesses. This course is an advanced level capstone experience required for all Freeman College of Management Majors at Bucknell University. Students enter the course with proficiency in all of the core business disciplines including accounting, finance, marketing, management and operations. This project requires them to apply what they have learned in these classes towards the assessment of business impact.

Successful projects have 4 key elements:

- 1. A desire to increase social impact.
Your status as a B-Corp indicates your commitment for business as a source for good. Partnering with students, this project provides an opportunity for your business to reflect on your impact journey to identify strategies for increasing impact across the five impact areas.
- 2. A well-engaged partner.
Partners will attend a kick-off meeting (in person or virtual) in August, these are meetings (typically 30 minutes) for students to gather information, email communication between meetings, and attending final presentations (in person or virtual) in December (date and time are TBA).
- 3. Access to data and business information.
Students will want to hit the ground running to develop an understanding of your business to inform customized recommendations to maximize impact. We are requesting partners to provide students access to the completed B-Impact Assessment. Access to this data will inform the analysis and recommendations advanced by students for this project.
- 4. A comprehensive final deliverable.
The final deliverable is more than just a report and presentation- the final deliverable includes practical recommendations for increasing social impact with your available resources.
